

BEING THE CHANGE

Not for you to be me, or for me to be you
But to be honest and true
To do the best you can do
In everything you do when you are you
The change of self love in progression
In the art of living with great passion
Being the change in the heart of your profession
Stronger and better
Different and unique everytime
Feeling the change from deep within
One day at a time...

But it might also be the hairstyle, the lipstick or the dress
We fabulous women of Aruba put on for comfort or to impress...

The lasting change being in heart, mind and soul
Keep on shining, reaching more goals
With the peace in you everywhere you go
Being the change of me being more me and know
You being the change of you being more you
By keeping the change that touched your heart today
When it's for the better of our whole universal play
In harmony, in the ups and downs, in the mirror, in the smile...
By being you the change in the challenges of all times
